The C-STEM Teacher of the Year Award recognizes C-STEM teachers for their exceptional contributions in teaching computing, integrating computing into STEM subjects, and inspiring students to pursue careers and post-secondary study in C-STEM fields. Award recipients are selected by the C-STEM Awards Committee which consists of university faculty, graduate students, and undergraduate students.

Direction: Please complete the steps below.

I. Activities and Achievements to Support Nomination:

Please describe and provide examples of how the nominee has demonstrated excellence in C-STEM education, integrating computing into STEM subjects and inspiring students to pursue careers and post-secondary study in C-STEM fields. Examples include innovative teaching techniques used in the classroom, advising students on extracurricular activities, inspiring students' interest in computing, and student progress and performance in math and/or computing.

II. Letters of Recommendation:

Please submit one or two letters of recommendation from nominee's colleagues and/or school/district administrators describing how the nominee satisfies the criteria set forth for C-STEM Teacher of the Year Award.

Qualifications

- Nominee must be a teacher who is teaching C-STEM subject(s) in a K-12 school with an annual C-STEM subscription.
- Nominee must be actively participating in the C-STEM program, including advising student teams for a RoboPlay Challenge Competition.
- Nominee has not received this award in the past.
- Nominee has been continuously and actively involved in the C-STEM program.
- If selected, nominee must attend the C-STEM Annual Conference in person to receive the award and participate in a presentation.

Selection Criteria

- Evidence in excellence in computing and STEM education, especially on integration of computing into STEM education.
- Present concepts in fun and exciting ways.
- Inspire students of different backgrounds and abilities to learn and explore computing.
- Engage fully in improving student learning and outcomes (e.g. student progress and achievement in math).
- Play an active role in school and extracurricular activities.

III. Nomination Submission: Nominator shall send completed form with all required materials into a single PDF file and email it to awards@c-stem.ucdavis.edu by the deadline. Alternatively, the completed form with all required materials in a single package can be mailed to:
